

Public Reporting of
Supplemental Educational Services (SES)
2015-2016 School Year

Supplemental Educational Services (SES) are additional instructional programs designed to increase the academic achievement of students in schools that have not met Adequately Yearly Progress (AYP) for three or more years. These services include help in academic subjects such as reading, language arts, and mathematics, provided free-of-charge to eligible students. These services are provided outside of the regular school day – before or after school, on weekends, or in the summer. Services may be offered through public or private sector providers that are approved by the state, such as public schools, public charter schools, local education agencies, educational service agencies, and faith-based organizations.

States are required to maintain a list of approved providers from which parents may select. The North Dakota Department of Public Instruction has posted the list of approved providers for 2015-2016 on its website at www.nd.gov/dpi/Administrators/FTP/Programs_Initiatives/Title/PI/SES/.

The following school district does not have a website; therefore, the State of North Dakota is providing the following information on behalf of this district:
